ICBC (Asia) Welcomes Today’s Announcement of the Lifting of the RMB Currency Conversions Limits with Hong Kong Residents
And Commit to Providing Customers More Diversified Reminbi Investment Products

12 November 2014, Hong Kong – ICBC (Asia) (“The Bank”) welcomes today’s announcement of the lifting of the RMB currency conversions limits with Hong Kong residents from 17 November 2014. The Bank will seize the favourable opportunities of RMB internationalization and play a pivotal role in this process by providing more diversified Reminbi products and services that would best serve the market and customers’ needs. The Bank plans to launch RMB-linked investment products in the near future.

The prevailing relevant restrictions, including the RMB 20,000 per person per day conversion limit, will no longer be applicable. In addition, the restrictions in relation to position squaring for RMB conversions conducted with Designated Business Customers will no longer be applicable. The Bank believes that this measure will increase Reminbi investment flexibility in Hong Kong market, being along with the upcoming launch of the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect, which could further enlarge the Renminbi capital pool in Hong Kong.

Being the overseas flagship of ICBC, the largest RMB banking group in the world, as well as a major market participant of the offshore Renminbi market in Hong Kong, ICBC (Asia) will fully utilize the consistently well-performed strengths of the cross-border services to provide more diversified and high quality Reminbi investment products and services to the market and customers, so as to assist to facilitate the development of the offshore Reminbi market.

Risk Disclosures:
Investment involves risk. The prices of securities fluctuate and may move up or down, sometimes dramatically and may become valueless. It is as likely that loss will be incurred rather than profit made as result of buying and selling investment. RMB investments are subject to the exchange rate fluctuation. Such fluctuation may provide both opportunities and risks.
